April

April Fools'

The most commonly accepted origin of April Fools' Day comes from 16th century France, where Charles IX decreed that the new year began on Jan. 1 instead of on the spring equinox. Those who either did not get the message or ignored the change were branded fools and made the victims of pranks and tricks.

Arbor Day

Join in the many community activities that will occur this month as we celebrate Earth Day. As spring really gets going, it's good to remember to take care of our environment by recycling and reducing litter.
