Know the Signs

Heat stroke is a major summertime threat. Watch your friends and loved ones for signs of the condition, such as confusion, dry skin, headache, nausea and rapid pulse. If you suspect heat stroke, get the person to a cool area and seek medical help immediately.

Bring a Neighbor Social

The Court Residents enjoyed their social in Brookview's Amelia Veranda. Everyone was encouraged to invite a friend ... either to meet a new neighbor or just catch up with old ones. The residents picked fun random questions out of a jar to help "break the ice" in hopes to stimulate fun conversation.

Pass It Down

When it comes to leaving a legacy for your children and grandchildren, few things could be better than your knowledge and memories. Take time to create a family history, including personal memories and anecdotes. Whether you compile it in a written format, or an audio or video recording, it's a gift that will always be treasured.
